

The chart displays two time series from 2017 to 2021. The blue line represents the 'Predicted (validation)' data, and the black line represents the 'Actual Timeseries' data. The two lines are highly correlated, showing a similar pattern of peaks and troughs. The predicted values closely follow the actual values, suggesting a good fit of the model to the data.

